

Exploration push: Junior mining company Venture Minerals is to ramp up exploration at its Mount Lindsay project on the State's West Coast. The company told the Australian Securities Exchange yesterday a $6.38 million capital raising would allow the fast-tracking of the Mount Lindsay magnetite-tin project, which is located near the Renison tin mine. A share placement at 26c a share has been negotiated with a number of institutional investors as part of the capital raising. The company said securing the funds meant it could now focus on drilling to define a "significant resource" at Mount Lindsay.
